- 25X1X 1. On 1 June 1951, JAO Chang-feng (焦彰凤), director of the United Front, South China Bureau, flew from Canton to Nanning on an official business trip, and returned to Canton on 5 June. In Nanning, JAO held a secret conference with WANG K'ie (王克), secretary of the Kwangsi branch of the Communist Party, CHANG Wen (张文), chairman of the Democratic League, WEI Yü-chung (魏玉忠), representative of the Kwangsi branch of the Democratic League, and YANG Li-hsin (杨立欣), a member of the Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee, to study methods of making a closer organization of various political parties. Members of the Democratic League and the KMT Revolutionary Committee in Kwangsi have been reported to be unsteady. Some have even shifted over to the Third Force and have engaged in guerrilla activities against the Communists. The United Front considers the situation serious because it appears that various political parties in Kwangsi can easily be won over by the Third Force. JAO's visit to Nanning was to conduct a survey of the situation on the instructions of YEH Chien-ying and FANG Fang.
2. It was decided at the conference to exercise control over the thoughts of cadres, and to strengthen the organization and promote the vigilance of all workers so as to prevent the backward and wavering from being used in anti-Communist activities.<sup>2</sup>

- 25X1A 1. Comment. In June JAO Chang-feng and CHANG Wen inspected Kwangtung and Kwangsi Provinces. At every place they went meetings were called at which a number of instructions were issued on strengthening the Communist Party, effecting land reform, pushing the anti-America and aid Korea movement, and so on. They planned to inspect Hunan, Kiangsi, and Fukien Provinces in July. See [REDACTED]
- 25X1A 2. Comment. Efforts to train Communist cadres for work in Kwangsi were reported in [REDACTED].
